Vienna, September 19.

THO' neceſſary Preparations have been made for the Siege of Neuheuſel, 'tis doubted that Enterprize will not go forward; becauſe the Seaſon is advanc'd, and the Place is ſurrounded by ſuch a Moraſs, that 'tis very difficult to approach it: There is alſo a ſtrong Garriſon in it, and among them ſeveral French Officers. Beſides, 'tis ſaid the Scheme General Heiſter had laid for the Operations of this Campaign, is abſolutely broken by the late Defeat of 4. or 5000 Raſcians by the Malecontents: Thoſe Raſcians were to have joyn'd the German Troops under General Heiſter, but being fallen upon at unawares by a ſuperior Force between Five Churches and Simonthurna, they were intirely routed, and loſt all their Baggage. This has ſo elevated the Malecontents, that they ſeem to have forgotten the Defeat they receiv'd near Trentſchin.

Vienna, Sept. 22. After the Malecontents had defeated the Body of Raſcians between Five Churches and Simonthurna, they appear'd before Five Churches into which ſome of the Raſcians had retir'd; but finding the Place well provided for Defence, they only fir'd a few Cannon ſhot into it, and drew off. Brigadier General Pflug, who commanded the foreſaid Raſcians, was taken Priſoner in the Fight, and carry'd to Simonthurna. Some Advices from Hungary, ſay General Heiſter began to Bombard Neuheuſel the 17th Inſtant; and that Prince Ragotski who is at Erla in Upper Hungary, has commanded all the Men of that Part of the Country, of from 15 to 50 Years, to take Arms, in Order to Harraſs the Imperialiſts.
